THE RESULT SCORED BY THE LOCAL NINE

MAINLY DUE TO MEEKIN'S EFFEC-TIVE PITCHING. The New-York and St. Louis teams played a one-sided uninteresting game of baseball at the Polo Grounds yesterday afternoon. Carsey pitched for the demoralized Browns and his work was in keeping with the record made by this degenerated team this year. The local men had plenty of sport banging the ball about the field, but it was not much fun for those spectators who had separated themselves from their money to see such a dismal and cheap exhibition. Meekin pitched a good game, but his support was only fair. The score:

COLTS WIN BY TIMELY BATTING. THE BROOKLYN MEN SIGHT CALLAHAN'S CURVES TOO LATE TO TIE THE GAME.

Uncle Anson's Colts from Chicago were exceptionally frisky in the game against the Brooklyn nine, at Eastern Park, yesterday afternoon. The Colts won through their timely batting. It was not until near the finish that the home players were able to sight Callahan's curves, and then it was too late. La Chance and Shindle were injured while running bases in the eighth inning. Their places were filled by Dunn and A. Smith.

Under the auspices of the Knickerbocker Athletic from New-England captured the point trophy with total of 51, their nearest competitors being the Long Island men, with 24 to their credit, while the New-Yorkers (*llowed closely with 23. New-Jersey, Con-necticut and Iowa scored 14, 8 and 6, respectively.

This is the second victory for the New-Englanders, and its representatives scored in twelve of the four-

FIRST IN THE TWENTY-FIVE-MILE ROAD RACE ON THE MERRICK ROAD.

FINE WEATHER CONDITIONS FOR THE CONTEST-THE FIRST TIME PRIZE GOES TO J. R. HARRISON, OF NEWARK.

had proper support a shutout would have resulted. Hemming, who replaced Hill, proved an easy mark for his old teammates. Attendance, 4,176. Score: Ideal weather conditions, save for a rather strong wind from the northwest, greeted the riders when they lined up for the start for the twenty-five-mile road face on the Merrick Road opposite Smith a Hotel, at Valley Stream, Long Island, yesterday afternoon. The start was directly in front of th hotel, and the course extended two and a half miles in each direction. The attendance all along the line was large, and many thousand people saw the contest, which was a stirring one from start to finish. Of course, the scratch men never had any chance-they never do in road races nowadays. Three six-minute men captured the first three places. The course was dry and dusty, and, with the wind, the time made was unusually good. The attendance of women, most of them taking the long ride on their wheels, was large, and they presented pretty pictures grouped along the course. But there were a few who did not present either h pretty or a womanly effect. A few costumes were noticed which were glaring and mannish in the extreme, and the wearers of them had only them selves to blame if they were jeered at as they rode to the starting point.

The winner turned up in George H. Bird, of Newark, who won by nearly two hundred yards, being in the lead or within striking distance from the crack of the pistol. J. R. Harrison, of the Vim Bicycle Club, of Newark, won the first time prize, going the twenty-five miles in 1:67:50-a performance, considering the fact that the race was run in the face of the heavy wind and clouds of blinding dust. Of the sixty-eight entries not half a dozen failed to start. George A. Soden, the winner of the recent Irvington-Millburn race, had to be content with twenty-first place. George H. Bird, the winner of the race, is a man about twenty years old, and, while he has raced before, he has never accomplished much. His best previous performance was to capture a time medal in the Irvington-Millburn race two years ago. He previous performance was to capture a time medal in the Irvington-Millburn race two years ago. He is employed as a clerk in a New-York bank, and what training he gets he has to take at night. ORANGE LAWN TENNIS CLUB CONTEST.

The feature of the day, of course, was the final match is senior singles, in which J. P. Paret, who holds the club championship, beat E. Lyman, three sets to one. In the junior singles, however, there was some clever play, and young "Len" Conway won. The winner is a player of great promise. Edward Larned, fourteen years old, is a brother of W. A. Larned, and the younger brother yesterday caused considerable surprise by the remarkable similarity, both as to looks and style of play. Young Larned needs only good coaching and more experience. Princeton, N. J., June 12.-Princeton defcated Yale to-day in a game which was replete with sensational plays and exciting incidents from start to finish. In four innings the Tigers batted Hamlin out of the box, and Yale retaliated in the seventh, foreing Jayne to retire in favor of Altman. For Yale Feary pitched a magnificent game after the fourth inning, and had the sons of Ell begun the contest with Feary in the box the outcome would have been vastly different. Princeton's fielding was ragged, but the remarkable batting of the Tigers more than made up for all other defects of play. Altman did steady work in the
